

Approved input for GRS-certified products GRS version 2.1

There are government initiatives to verify claims of recycled content in materials and products. Therefore, input materials (i.e. those materials used as input into the recycling process) produced under governmental and/or private initiatives are accepted into a GRS certified process, provided that the input material has been verified by a third party or government body to be in compliance with the applicable standard.

An example of accepted private third party verification is SCS Recycled Content Certification.

An example of an accepted government initiative is the Taiwanese governmental program on recycling (Greenmark).

Initiatives other than SCS and Greenmark programs need prior approval from Textile Exchange.

To obtain this approval please send your valid certificate together with inspection report and relevant standard to Integrity@TextileExchange.org

Note: approved inputs will be reviewed and may be changed for GRS v3.
